

Thank you for hosting a party with me!

YOUR JOB AS HOST IS SIMPLE ■■

I want this to be super easy for you! Many hosts put out refreshments, so you are welcome to do this if you would like. I encourage simplicity; a fresh veggie tray and some bottled water is a perfect combination for the demonstrations I'll be doing at your party.

There are only a few things I ever want my hosts to do, and the biggest of those is to send a few text messages. The guest list can actually be pretty easy, all you need to do is text this message to your friends, and then forward the replies to me! To earn the most rewards for you, our goal needs to be around 10 guests. In the past I've found that I need to invite about 40 family and friends to get 10 in attendance.

Suggested text message

"Hey (insert name), I have not seen you in forever! I miss you! I'm having a little get together soon and I wanted to send you an invite. Can you give me your email and mailing address?"

MY JOB AS YOUR CONSULTANT ■■

My parties are pretty quick! I know you and your friends are busy, you probably don't get a ton of time to spend together, so I want this to be an opportunity for you and your friends to truly reconnect without any distractions, including me. I'll keep my party to about an hour so that will leave you some time to enjoy each others' company after the demonstrations.

The party is only fun when YOU truly enjoy yourself! The key to that is choosing a great theme you'll enjoy and coordinating the best demonstrations to go with it. My favorite part of the party is demonstrations... bringing out my Essential Oils and letting you and the guests try them firsthand! I love seeing the joy come across someone's face when I can help their pain by applying oils to their feet. Teaching you how to make safe products, for a fraction of store cost, is the highlight of my business! I have an extensive list of themes for you to choose from, so let's connect very soon to discuss the theme you find most exciting.
